

CECIL'S 3 – PROGRAM

22 August, Thursday

9:30-9:40	Conference opening
9:40-10:40	Prof. Hubert Haider (University of Salzburg) In Linguistics, Theories Come and Go, but Facts are in Short Supply
10:40-10:55	Coffee break
10:55-11:30	Marta Ruda (Jagiellonian University in Krakow) On the VP Ellipsis Analysis of Missing Objects in Polish
11:30-12:05	Marcel Pitteroff (University of Stuttgart) The Expletive Puzzle - Impersonal (let-)middles
12:05-12:40	Zorica Puškar (University of Novi Sad) Number and Gender Agreement with Conjoined NPs
12:40-14:00	Lunch
14:00-14:35	Gergő Turi (Pázmány Péter Catholic University) Subject Islands in Hungarian
14:35-15:10	Daria Chernova (Saint-Petersburg State University) Corpus Frequencies and Attachment Preferences in Ambiguity Resolution: Evidence from Russian Participial Constructions
15:10-15:45	Pegah Faghiri (University of Paris III, Sorbonne Nouvelle) Constituent Ordering and Heaviness: a Corpus-Based Study on Persian
15:45-16:00	Coffee break
16:00-16:35	Costin Valentin Oancea (University of Bucharest) Talkin' or Talking? Phonological Variation in the Speech of London Teenagers
16:35-17:10	Jana Taperte (University of Latvia) Locus Equations and the Place of Articulation for the Latvian Sonorants
17:10-17:15	Announcements
17:15-18:15	POSTER SESSION 1
19:00	Reception

23 August, Friday

9:30-10:50	Mohammad Momenian - Isa Atarodi (Tarbiat Modares University) Order/age of Acquisition Effects in a Second Language in the Lexical Decision Task
10:05-10:40	Márta Szücs (University of Szeged) Theory of Mind vs Grammar Skills in Comprehension of Metaphor and Irony
10:40-10:55	Coffee break
10:55-11:30	Mirjana Mirić (University of Nis) How Informational Focus Facilitates Scalar Implicatures
11:30-12:05	Anna N. Yurchenko (Lomonosov Moscow State University, National Research University Higher School of Economics) - Olga V. Dragoy (Moscow Research Institute of Psychiatry) - Svetlana V. Ailantova (Center for Speech Pathology and Neurorehabilitation) Processing of Semantic Violations in Russian Healthy Speakers and Aphasic Patients
12:05-12:40	Dominik Freunberger (University of Salzburg) Vampires Like Drinking Soap: An ERP Study on the Influence of Negative Quantifiers on Predictive Processes in Language Comprehension
12:40-14:00	Lunch
14:00-14:35	Marcin Wągiel (Masaryk University of Brno / Palacký University of Olomouc) Collective and Distributive Readings of Polish Numeral Phrases
14:35-15:10	Dominika Dziubała-Szrejbrowska (Adam Mickiewicz University in Poznań) Syntax of Numerically Quantified Phrases in Polish and the Theory of Movement
15:10-15:45	Ioana-Gabriela Ivan (University of Bucharest) Romanian N-words and the Jespersen Cycle
15:45-16:00	Coffee break
16:00-17:00	POSTER SESSION 2
17:00-18:00	Prof. Marcel den Dikken (City University of New York) The Phase Impenetrability Condition, Successive Cyclicity, and the Direction of Structure Building
18:00-18:05	Conference closing

Poster Session 1

22 August 2013

Boglárka Bilász (Comenius University) Language Ideologies in High Schools with Hungarian as a Teaching Language in Slovakia
Tatiana Nikitina (People's Friendship University of Russia) Actualisation of Concepts DOM / MAISON ("HOUSE") in Russian and French Language World Views
Petra Martinková (Palacký University) CDA Methods for Discovering the Communicative Goals in Reporting the "Space Race Issue"
Sara Milani (Venice Ca'Foscari University) The Relative Structure of Russian Participial Constructions
Szilárd Sebők (Comenius University in Bratislava) The Notion of "Language Ideology" as an Agent of Discourse
Rudmila-Rodica Ivan (University of Bucharest) Grammaticalization in the Making – Romanian wh-words and their Complementizer Roles
Xiaoying Wang - Xiaonan Zhu (Zhejiang University) How does Language Direction Affect Semantic and Translation Priming of Chinese-English Bilinguals?
Tünde Szalay (Eötvös Loránd University) The Comparison of /r/ and /l/ in Southern English
Kata Wohlmuth (University of Pécs) Focus as Perfectivizer in Hungarian
Lilla Pintér (alternant)(Pázmány Péter Catholic University) Suspended Obviation and Spelled out PRO are Two Sides of the Same Coin
Ágnes Abuczki (University of Debrecen) A Corpus-based Study to Disambiguate Discourse Markers in Multimodal Context

Poster Session 2

23 August 2013

Fokina Yulia Stanislavovna (alternant)(Saint-Petersburg State University) How WMC (Working Memory Capacity) Affects Perception of the Relevant Information
Tamás Fekete (alternant)(University of Pécs) A Contrastive Investigation of the Contact between Old Norse and Old English in the Light of a Corpus Based Analysis
Xiaonan Zhu - Xiaoying Wang (Zhejiang University) A Cross-Linguistic Comparison of Register Variation between Chinese, Korean and English
Elena-Ramona Toma (University of Bucharest) A Semantic and Syntactic Approach to Derived Intransitivity -A Contrastive Analysis of Romanian-English Antipassives
Kateřina Prokopov (Palack University) Language and Ideology: Critical Discourse Analysis of Radio Free Europe’s Broadcasting in 1950s
Nair Garcia Abelleira (University of Santiago de Compostela) Languages in the Multicultural Crossroad. The Database SSWL, a Resource for Describing Languages in a Typological Way.
Syelle Graves (Graduate Center of the City University of New York) Differences in Sameness
Anna Zsfia Czegldi (Pzmany Pter Catholic University) Exclamative Clauses in Hungarian
Mtys Gercs (Pzmany Pter Catholic University) Event Quantification in Hungarian. A Comparative Analysis of ki-ki and mindenki
Pter Szucs (University of Debrecen) Topicalization and Left-dislocation from Informational-structural Perspective
Rka Jurth (University of Debrecen) On the Distribution of Hungarian Resultative Expressions